Flavored tobacco policy restrictions

as of March 31, 2024

Truth Initiative’s flavor policy database analyzes flavored tobacco product laws enacted by U.S. states, counties, cities, and towns. This database is updated quarterly. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) policy announced in January 2020 is not reflected in the database.

The 2009 Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act (TCA) banned the sale of cigarettes with a characterizing flavor (e.g. fruit), but exempted menthol cigarettes and did not apply to flavored tobacco products like electronic cigarettes (also known as e-cigarettes), little cigars, hookah and smokeless tobacco. The passage of the law gave the FDA the power to implement flavor-related product standards on other tobacco products, but the agency has so far not enacted any comprehensive policies. Flavors also play a big role in the youth e-cigarette crisis — 97% of youth who vape use flavored products — and while the FDA issued a policy intended to reduce access to flavored e-cigarettes in January 2020, we believe the policy is deficient and has many regulatory gaps, including allowing menthol in all e-cigarettes as well as all flavors in open systems and disposable e-cigarette products. We chose not to include this FDA policy in this database project and instead highlight only state and local policies.

Implementing strong state and local flavor policies that restrict the sale of all flavored tobacco products, including menthol, is an increasingly important tool in ensuring effective tobacco control efforts and protection of the most vulnerable populations. The TCA protects the states’ and localities’ ability to implement their own sales restrictions on flavored tobacco products. In April 2022, the FDA proposed rules prohibiting menthol cigarettes and flavored cigars. However, the rules are not yet final and these local actions help close the federal regulatory gap and reduce the availability and appeal of flavored tobacco products to youth and young adults.

JURISDICTIONS WITH PENDING BALLOT MEASURES OR LITIGATION:

- Multnomah County, OR: In February 2024, the Oregon Court of Appeals issued an order that extends its temporarily halt of the county’s enforcement of the new flavored tobacco sales ban.
- Washington County, OR: In September 2022, a county judge ruled against the county’s restriction on the sale of flavored tobacco products. While the county is appealing, a preliminary injunction putting the ordinance on hold remains in effect.

LOCALITIES

Comprehensive flavored tobacco sales restrictions are gaining momentum at the local and state level. In this report, we follow a six-tiered classification scheme that characterizes flavored tobacco sales restrictions from least to most comprehensive, with the latter defined as policies that prohibit sales of ALL types of flavors across ALL products, including menthol/mint/wintergreen tobacco products, at ALL retailers. Please see below for a detailed description of each level.

<tr>
<th>Level 6</th>
<th>All flavors restricted / all products restricted / all retailers restricted, and endgame policies.</th>

*a Endgame policies refer to restrictions on the sale of all tobacco products in a jurisdiction.

*b Narrow retail exemptions allow for the sale of flavored tobacco products (FTPs) in on-site consumption tobacco or smoking bars (i.e. retailers exclusively occupying an enclosed indoor space and are primarily selling tobacco products for consumption by customers on the premises).

*c Narrow product exemptions allow for the sale of flavored: hookah, pipe, premium cigars, FDA premarket approval products, and/or FDA modified risk approval products.

*d Major retailer exemptions allow for the sale of FTPs in: adult only retailers, liquor stores, vape shops, specialty stores (i.e. establishments in which the primary purpose is the sale of tobacco and tobacco-related products and/or a specified percentage of its revenues is derived from the sale of tobacco and tobacco-related products), and/or policies that apply only to buffer zones (i.e. policies that apply only to retailers within a certain distance of youth-oriented areas, such as schools, parks, playgrounds, and libraries).

*e Flavor exemptions allow for the sale of FTPs with menthol flavor or characterizing flavors.

*f Major product exemptions allow for the sale of flavored: e-cigarettes, cigars, little cigars and cigarillos, smokeless tobacco, and/or roll your own tobacco.

*g Includes FTP policies with missing data for any flavor, product, or retailer exemption and/or FTP policies that exempt existing retailers.

*h Narrow retailer exemptions may also be present.

Jurisdictions highlighted in green had policies that either were passed between 01/01/2024 and 03/31/2024, have an existing policy that removed exemptions for menthol/mint/wintergreen flavored products between 01/01/2024 and 03/31/2024, or were updated retroactively upon further examination during the period 01/01/2024 and 03/31/2024; thus making the policy comprehensive.

Jurisdictions restricting all tobacco product sales are in bold.

§ Restriction applies to unincorporated part of county

a Prohibits sales of tobacco and e-cigarette products to those born after 1/1/2000.
The following jurisdictions prohibit sales of flavors such as fruit, candy, alcohol, or dessert, excluding tobacco flavor but do not include menthol flavors. These jurisdictions differ in whether they include menthol/mint/wintergreen flavors across product types – for example in some jurisdictions the sale of menthol in e-cigarettes is not permitted, but menthol flavored cigarettes, cigars, and other products such as hookah are still sold.

As of March 31, 2024, in 214 jurisdictions and three tribes, menthol/mint/wintergreen flavored products are exempted:

In addition to restricting the sale of flavored e-cigarettes, Chicago restricts the sale of flavored tobacco products, including menthol flavor, only within 500 linear feet of a secondary school.

In addition to restricting the sale of non-menthol flavored e-cigarettes, Nassau County restricts the sale of e-cigarettes, including menthol flavor, only within 1,000 linear feet of a school, park or playground.

As stated above, the FDA’s January 2020 flavored e-cigarette compliance policy leaves many flavored e-cigarettes on the market. However, local and state jurisdictions have taken action to target e-cigarette sales, whether they are flavored or not.

As of March 31, 2024, 58 jurisdictions and two tribes have banned the sale of all e-cigarettes.
